

Have Fun at your Job!

Elmwood Stock Farm is looking for farmers market stand workers for the Fall 2019 season.

Elmwood Stock Farm is in search of 1 or 2 more friendly faces to work at our stand at the Farmers Markets. Rain or shine, hot or cold, we attend the Lexington and Hyde Park, Cincinnati markets year-round. With several of our farm team going back to school, we have some weekends open this fall.

In this position, you will help set up and take down the stand, restock vegetables, assist customers with sales as well as answer questions about our produce and meats, the farm, the crops and share recipe ideas. As a representative of the farm, we will train you in basic facts about Elmwood Stock Farm and the vegetables and meats we grow and sell.

We look for individuals who are physically fit, friendly and able to communicate well with the public. Sales or customer service experience, fast adding and subtracting skills, an interest in organic foods, high energy, and a smiling face are required. Experience in cooking will be very helpful, but is not necessary.

Immediate openings we are looking to fill are on Saturdays, hours 6:30am - 2:30pm; Sundays, hours 6:30am – 3pm. Work only one or both markets, but we need a regular commitment every week. Compensation includes an hourly wage and extra organic veggies. Have fun, eat good food, and make some money!
